

Mark Morris Dance Group – The Muir (2011)

"The world of the beguiling and often moving songs, artfully sung by three vocalists (baritone Jorell Williams is a standout) with accompaniment by a piano-and-strings trio..." – The Wall Street Journal

"All tactics are on view in the charming sextet, The Muir, which is set to a selection of Beethoven's arrangements of Scottish and Irish folk songs (for this the three above-mentioned instrumentalists are joined by excellent singers: mezzo-soprano Irene Snyder, tenor John Matthew Myers, and baritone Jorell Williams)." – The Village Voice

"According to Morris's usual policy, the music for the entire program was played live by a fine chamber group of instrumentalists and singers..." - Arts Journal
